About me

I am a professional Web/MERN Stack developer who is constantly seeking new challenges to explore more in technologies and help out business to earn and achieve their true potential. I have an experience of over 4+ years of working in various technologies including NodeJS, JavaScript, MySQL, MongoDB, Angular, React.js, AWS, GCP, Vuejs, CI/CD etc. I worked under various situations and with wide variety of customers to fulfill all of their growing development needs. With sound and formal training in various technologies, I also have worked with international clients to provide them efficient solutions and on time delivery. I like taking pride in my work and am always up for new and exciting jobs.
